INDUSTRY SPEAKS

PRITESH GALA,
MANAGING DIRECTOR, TWO TALES

We are an interiors and turnkey solutions providers; the client comes to us with their plans and we execute the same – that’s what our brand is all about. We have participated in Index previously as well, and it’s an amazing experience. We receive whatever was discussed on paper, and we cannot thank the sales and backend team enough for their support. We rate the exhibition anything above ten, it was a wonderful experience all together.

PRANESH CHHIBBER,
COUNTRY DIRECTOR,
CANADIAN WOOD

We are a happy to be here as furniture is an important component for the wood industry, and we promote five different wood species from the British Columbia in the offshore markets. The target audience coming to the exhibition is fairly good, as it’s well-organised as compared to visiting warehouses and tents to attend a fair. I hope to see more categories in furniture, such as by material. They can bring in more exhibitors, and more target specific audience for the growth of the industry.

RAVINDER GOEL
FOUNDER & CEO
LITTLE NAP

We are the leading manufacturers of recliners in India, and bring luxury and comfort with our products. We have our manufacturing facilities in Delhi, but plan to set up a third facility in Dewas under the name of Little Nap Suburbs. We focus on three major segments, such as cinema, home theatre and we are the original equipment manufacturer in Little Nap Subrubs, which is an upcoming segment for us. We exhibited at Index for the first time this year, and we had walk-ins from both corporate and retail segments.

RISHIRAJ SETHI, AURA ART

We are honoured to set up the art section at Index nine years ago, so this is the ninth edition of the Art Enclave. This comprises fifteen booths of artworks and galleries that display their work. We had always dreamt of the confluence of art and architecture a decade ago, and we see the magic happening today. A consumption buyer is someone who chooses art for its decorative value, and a collector is more involved in building a collection. It draws both B2C and B2B audience, and is a great mix of trade, commerce and design.

MARCO FASANI,
FGV S.P.A, ITALY

Our experience with Index is definitely good; every time we attend the event, we see an update in facilities and level of service. We are pleased with the outcome, as we enjoy a good number of quality visitors not simply from Mumbai. Our visitors were from the north, south and east – holding good potential for follow-ups.

VISITOR PROFILE

PADMA BHUSHAN

AR. HAFEEZ CONTRACTOR,
ARCHITECT HAFEEZ CONTRACTOR, MUMBAI
Index provides an opportunity to network with more and more industry people and exposure to new designs available in the market.

AR. SANJAY PURI,
PRINCIPAL ARCHITECT, SANJAY PURI
ARCHITECTS PVT. LTD., MUMBAI
Designed as a trade fair for the design community Index brought a variety of products together in an organized way in sequential halls along with a series of relevant discussions and forums for design thought.

AR. NINAD TIPNIS,
FOUNDER AND PRINCIPAL,
JTCPL DESIGNS

This edition was remarkable on many counts for me. The main reasons for me were : Resuming in-person experiential engagements versus digital interventions AND as always, the Indexellence awards. This year was special because the collective efforts of my father's firm and mine were honoured. It felt special to be on the same platform as stalwarts who have inspired me over the years and continue to do so. The venue was excellent and better programmed than earlier ones.

AR. NEIL CRESTO,
CO-FOUNDERS, STUDIO NAMA

I have been associated with Index for the last seven to eight years, and it has evolved in the last couple of years with new brands and vendors. They have also sourced clients from Jaipur and Jodhpur, who are mainly known for exporting. Those specialized agencies have today come to Index to open up a display for Mumbai. I believe that it's fantastic to have these brands from all over India under one roof. They are on the right track, but they only have to grow bigger each year.

SHANTANU AND RIDDHI GUNAJI,
KENZIN ARCHITECTS

We are into residential and interior projects, and mostly visit Bhiwandi for our furniture requirements. At Index, we see Italian and Turkish brands based in Mumbai, and we know many other brands that have participated here from Jodhpur. It's all about getting interactive with the vendors, and we got to see and meet so many friends. We believe that Index is mainly a furniture exhibition, but there are different kinds of products such as panellings, fabric and leather.

AR. SAWARAJ BHIDIYE,

I have been in the architecture industry for five years, and this is my first invitation to Index. I only entered a few stalls, but discovered that Index gives a platform to small-scale brands to showcase their brands and talent – that's a good thing. You're doing a great job, kudos to you!

DES. SHIVANI SAWANT, PALINDROME SPACES, THANE
I have two or three years of experience in the design firm. We found Index on social media and we registered barely a fortnight ago. We look around for design exhibitions happening in the city, and here we are. This year, Index is quite new with new stalls, furniture and creativity – and we love that!

AR. MILIND PAI, PRINCIPAL ARCHITECT,
MILIND PAI ARCHITECTS & INTERIOR
DESIGNERS, MUMBAI

We have been at Index for the last 20 years. Index serves as a good platform for us to explore newer products, as in daily routine, we don't get that much time to do so. The exhibitors take the effort in showing us new mechanisms and technologies that have come up. Overall we had a good experience.

VISITOR PROFILE

YATIN KAPOOR,
DIVINE CHAIRS

Our experience with Index has been highly positive. We have been participating with Index for the past two decades, and we are confident that it won't end here. We plan to participate for many more years to come as we consistently encounter genuine buyers through Index.

ADITYA CHADHA,
ALDER FURNITURE

This marks our inaugural participation, and the response has been truly overwhelming. We aspire to be part of every edition of Index, having connected with numerous architects, interior designers, and key industry players. Index is fantastic, and we eagerly anticipate the next edition.
